Features: IRIS for Elite compatible with JABRA Panacast.

The Iris Lite allows you to position the soundbar or video conferencing system independently and standalone. This way, it can be positioned between the monitor and the listener's table, leveraging optical principles and field of view. This position allows for perfect viewing for both listeners and convenient and efficient installation.

The pole supporting the system allows for seamless internal cabling and the option of choosing between two fixed heights of 88 cm and 120 cm. This solution ensures maximum stability and reduces potential vibrations that could compromise image clarity.
